

FleetPartners helps you get the best out of your vehicle fleet – whatever its size.

Working in partnership with you

With decades of industry experience, we'll find the most efficient way to manage your fleet, drive and reduce its impact on your bottom line.

Experts in vehicle assets

Our specialised team is made up of qualified mechanics, technicians, financial advisors and business managers that are experts in cost management.

Tailored service

To customise a unique solution to meet your needs, and relieve you of the burden of fleet administration, our fleet management solutions start with three simple steps:

Analysis

We analyse your current situation from vehicles and their use, through to contracts and obligations.

Definition

We work with you to understand what you are trying to achieve, whether it's optimising fleet costs, reducing carbon emissions, managing accidents and breakdowns, FBT savings, and more.

Implementation

We draw up recommendations and tailor a plan to achieve optimal fleet management.

Full or partial management

Depending on the level of involvement you require, we can provide a fully outsourced solution where we do everything. Or work in tandem with you to support your needs. It's about what works best for you.

Whether you retain ownership of your vehicles, or use a FleetPartners lease option, our experienced teams will provide guidance and advice to identify the most effective fleet management services to suit your individual company vehicle policy.

FAQs

How many vehicles do I need to justify fleet management?

Even with smaller fleets, professional fleet management can play a key role in maximising the useful life of your vehicles, limiting down time and its related costs. If managing and maintaining your fleet is consuming more and more of your time, it's worthwhile considering fleet management so you can spend more time on your core business.

Can FleetPartners help me manage maintenance on my fleet?

Our managed maintenance service means you can keep your vehicles in mint condition without having to spend time negotiating with suppliers or verifying maintenance work is necessary. Plus, with our national purchasing power, you can be sure of significant savings on repairs and servicing.
